3 DEAD, 2 HURT IN SEWER BLAST

Workmen in Tunnel Near Zoo Victims of Dynamite Explosion.

HOLD INQUEST TODAY

Men Operated Drill in Hole Where

Explosive Had Been Left by Night Force.

Three men are dead and two hurt as a result of an explosion of dynamite yesterday morning in a sewer conduit on the old Wagman estate near the north entrance of the Zoological Park.

The dead:
John Murray, colored, 1225 Twenty-fifth street northwest.

George Barkley, colored, Forty-first and Elliott streets northwest.

"Bud" Masterson, colored, Forty-first and Elliott streets northwest.

Albert Saunders, colored, 1410 Twentieth street northwest.

James Signor, colored, 814 G street southwest.

Today at the District morgue at 11:30 o'clock Coroner Nevitt will hold an inquest to fix the responsibility for the deaths.

A force of laborers at the time of the explosion were engaged in putting in a main interceptor. Saunders, one of the injured men, said he thought the night force had left a charge of dynamite in a hole, and when the day force put their seven-foot drill into the place to begin boring, the explosion resulted.

Probe Is Begun.

Capt. Roger G. Powell, Assistant Engineer Commissioner, and Asa E. Phillips, superintendent of the sewer department of the District, at once began an investigation.

An ambulance from Emergency Hospital was summoned and Dr. Francis Ready, who answered the call, found that Murray, Barkley and Masterson had been killed instantly. The two injured men were rushed at once to the hospital, where it was stated that although their injuries were dangerous they would recover.

TO ADVERTISE WARSHIP BIDS.

Three Dreadnaughts to Be Numbered 40, 41, and 42.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced yesterday that about August 1 he would advertise for bids for the building of three Dreadnaughts including the one to be available upon the receipt from Greece of payment for the Mississippi and Idaho.

One of these vessels is to be built at the New York Navy Yard. The plans of all three will be similar to those of No. 30, which was built in New York.

Until names have been selected, the three new ships will be known as Nos.
40, 41, and 42.

House Postpones Action on No-tastic Garden's Removal.

The House yesterday gave a setback to the plans to remove the Notastic Garden from the foot of Capitol Hill and place them in a 40-acre arboretum in Rock Creek Park.

Owing to the absence of Representative Staggers, of Texas, chairman of the Committee on Library, which was in charge of the bill providing for the removal of the garden, the bill was stricken from the unanimous consent calendar and will be taken up at another time.

The annual death rate to each thousand in the Canal Zone, including both employees and civil population today for a recent month was 13.6. The total for 1907 was 13.67. In the preceding year, 1906, it was as high as 43.2.

TEMPERANCE SPEAKERS

WILL ADDRESS RALLY

Senator Jones and Clergymen to Speak at Anacostia Meetings

Beginning Sunday.

The special committee of the Anacostia Federation for Social Service in charge of the arrangements for the series of temperance meetings beginning Sunday night, announced yesterday that it had secured some of the best temperance speakers in the country. Andrew Wilson, president of the District Anti-Saloon League; E. C. Dinwiddie, national legislative superintendent of the league; Rev.
C. P. Spalding, rector of St. John's Church, Georgetown; Senator Jones, of Washington, and Rev. L. Morgan Chambers are among them.

Members of the Brotherhood of the Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church and their friends today will go to Tolchester Beach. The proceeds will be used to further the work of the brotherhood. Charles F. Linger is president of the organization and chairman of the committee in charge of today's outing.

Members of the Embroidery Club of Anacostia will make a trip today to Sycamore Island, near Glen Echo. An all-day outing will be enjoyed, and those expected to be in the party are Mrs.
Edmund Mallet, Mrs. William Scam-bury, Jr., Mrs. Edward F. Wood, Mrs.
Upton S. Howser, Mrs. Sowerbutts, Mrs.
T. L. Moore, Mrs. Ernest White, Mrs.
Harry Dewette, Mrs. Ernest, Selby and Mrs. N. R. Harshb.

LAW DOES NOT HIT CLUBS.

Army and Navy Organization Exempt from Eight-hour Rule.

Washington clubs employing help are exempt from the eight-hour law for women, according to a ruling made yesterday by Corporation Counsel Syme.

Paul W. Garrett, inspector under the law, addressed a communication to the board of governors of the Army and Navy Club asking to be informed as to what action the club has taken toward complying with the law. Capt. Julius L.
Schley, secretary of the club, stated that a special committee appointed to investigate the matter reported that in its opinion the law does not apply to the Army and Navy Club. The commissioner referred the answer of the club to Corporation Counsel Syme, who ruled he did not believe the law applies to the Army and Navy Club or to similar bodies.

FOUR HELD IN RACE RIOT.

Quartet of Negroes on Charge of Participating in Car Fight.

The police of the Ninth precinct have four colored men under arrest for the part they are alleged to have played in a race riot on an incoming street car from Hyattsville near Twenty-fourth street and Rhode Island avenue northeast, Monday night.

Four persons were stabbed, two seriously, in the fight which ensued. Roy B. Hanback, a member of the fire department and his brother, Burrill W.
Hanback, a railroad brakeman, are at Emergency Hospital suffering from wounds in the chest. Arthur S. Timmons of 3 M street northwest, and another passenger, were slightly hurt.

The prisoners are Jesse Docket, Elmer Docket, W. M. Stokes, and Jerry Brown, all colored.

BUYS BIG SHOE STOCK

People's Department Store Is Getting

Ready to Announce a Cut-

Price Sale.

The stock of Washington's oldest shoe firm, the Robert Cohen & Sons Company, has been sold by the executors of the estate of Mary E. Cohen to Joseph Goldberg, of the People's Department Store, at Eighth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

This purchase was one of the largest, if not the largest, transaction in the history of the local shoe business.

The sale was made by bid, and although the purchase price has not been made public, it is known to be a large sum.

The new owner of the stock soon will announce a cut-price sale of the whole stock.

BROKE, BEACH IS CLOSED.

Playgrounds to Be Discontinued

After July 13.

Being without funds to pay expenses, the municipal bathing beach was forced to close yesterday afternoon.

It will not be reopened until Congress passes the District appropriation bill, which possibly will be weeks yet.

All playgrounds in the city will close July 13 because the appropriation bill has not been passed. Sufficient funds are on hand to keep them going until next Saturday.

Arthur C. Moore, president of the Washington Playground Association, yesterday came forward with a personal check to prevent the playgrounds at Neighborhood House, on N street, from closing. An order had been issued to close these grounds.

Immediately upon passing of the District appropriation bill the playgrounds will reopen.

REBELS TAKE TOWN.

Dominican revolutionists have taken the town of La Romana, according to State Department advices. They have established a censorship over wireless dispatches from that place. The revolution has also extended to the Rani district though government troops still hold the town of that name.

NEW HANBY CLOSTER

IS OPEN TO TEST

Justice Gould, Refusing to

Disturb Verdict, Allows

Supersedeas Bond.

MAY TRY TO STOP PAY

Injunction or Restraining Order Now

Possible—Home Rule Body to "Lay Low."

Following the refusal of Justice Ashley M. Gould, of the District Supreme Court, to disturb the verdict of the jury against Commissioner Newman in the center proceeding, The Washington Herald yesterday was reliably informed that probably no attempt would be made on behalf of the home rule committee to actually oust the official pending the decision on the appeal taken by him.

It was reported on reliable authority, however, that preparations were under way outside the committee to contest every act of the commissioner henceforth. There was even talk of suing for an injunction to prevent him from getting his salary. While lawyers are still at variance regarding the effect of the verdict, the consensus of opinion among them is that the judgment entered upon the verdict yesterday at the direction of Justice Gould terminated Mr. Newman's right to act as commissioner and consequently that any further act by him would be void.

Previous Acts Valid.

As to his acts previous to yesterday, the general opinion is that they are all absolutely valid and binding. The act of the fact official. It is contended that the commissioner is no longer even a de facto officer, a real officer judgment within the letter of the law having been actually entered against him.

In overruling the three motions filed on behalf of the commissioner by his counsel, Attorneys Ralston and Richardson, Justice Gould said the most serious question to be decided on appeal is whether any court had the right to revocate the appointment of Commissioner Newman after the President and Senate had investigated to their satisfaction his eligibility.

Attorneys Ralston contended in arguing his motion for a judgment for his client despite the verdict and another in arrest of judgment, that had it appeared from the evidence that the President and Senate had not come into that question the appointment might be reviewed by a court, but as the matter stood, he insisted, the court had nothing to do with it.

Was Up to Jury.

The other motion was for a new trial, which was overruled despite Attorney Ralston's contention that the jury had not considered the evidence that the commissioner had not intended to abandon his legal residence here when he left town in 1911. Justice Gould replied that it was a fact to be determined by the jury and that since it was squarely presented to the twelve men their verdict should be disturbed.

The question of the effect of a supersedas bond allowed by the court, which is still by far the most interesting one of the whole case, to laymen and lawyers alike, was left open by the court.

The penalty of the bond was fixed at $300 and the court emphasized the fact that the question of stay of execution of the judgment for costs, that it could not
judgment for costs, that it could not
judgment for costs, that it could not

This leaves this question exposed to a possible test, that if the case is thrown back to the jury, the jury might care to try it and at any time it was stated that the question might be raised either by suit for an injunction to prevent the commissioner from acting further in that capacity or for a restraining order to stop his salary.

Former Senator Joseph Bailey, of Texas, and Attorney Arthur A. Birney appeared for William J. Fritzel, the re-lator, but the court did not require them to speak.

OFFICIALS SPEAK TONIGHT

AT HOME RULE MEETING

Representative Campbell, other men prominent in governmental affairs, and several Washingtonians, including Fulton B. Gordon, William S. Gude, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr.
J. K. Gleason, department commander of the G. A. R., Martin Wiegand, and C.
C. Leacock, will speak at the home rule mass meeting in Moore's Garden Theater in Ninth street tonight. Music will be furnished by the First Infantry Band, N. G. D. C.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

For the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia—Partly cloudy Wednesday, probably followed by local showers Wednesday night or on Thursday; not much change in temperature; moderate south winds.

The storm that was off the Middle Atlantic coast Tuesday night passed northward to the Saint Lawrence Valley and has diminished greatly in intensity.
It caused general showers in the Middle Atlantic and New England States and strong shifting winds on the New England coast. Showers are also reported from the South Atlantic coast and from widely scattered points in the Mississippi Valley and the Rocky Mountain region.

Temperatures have fallen considerably in the Upper Lake region, and they have risen in the far Northwest. Moderate southerly winds continue in the Atlantic States, while the weather is quite warm in the Lower Ohio and Middle Mississippi valleys and the Rocky Mountain region.

The indications are that the weather will be partly cloudy with local showers Wednesday and Thursday in the East, South Atlantic, and Middle Atlantic States, and Wednesday in the North Atlantic States. In other parts of the country the weather will be generally fair Wednesday and Thursday.
